The terrain south of the Stalag was a military reservation which apparently extended as far as the northeast corner of the Justerbog troop training grounds. Troops with light AT guns were engaged in aiming practice in this area. Trucks loaded with rifles, entered the camp on 16 August

- * Comment. the artillery unit was a component of the 9th Gds Tank Div and probably moved from the post to Justerbog for firing practice. Other components of the division were also in Justerbog for short training cycles in late June and early July 1951. The 6 rocket launchers belong to a rocket launcher component of the XXIX Gds Itz Rifle Corps which probably returned from firing practice.
